

We hope everyone had a wonderful summer! Another fall season is upon us. What goes hand in hand with fall better than preparation for our 2010 Nutcracker performance! We will begin working on dances for our annual Nutcracker Suite in the next week or two. It is very important that students make it to class so they don't miss new steps and choreography! Any student missing too many classes leading up to the show may be asked not to participate.

The Nutcracker performance date has been confirmed for Saturday, December 18th at Fort Lupton Middle School. Show will begin at 3:00pm!

We are excited to be performing at the Brighton Festival of Lights on Sat, December 11th again this year. Times have not been set for this year's performance but should be sometime between 12pm – 2:00 pm.

Ballet Now has decided to waive the annual registration renewal fee this year for all current students! It is usually due September of every year.

The week before Halloween (Oct 25-29th) will again be "Costume Week!" The girls may wear their Halloween costumes or ballet costumes to class, provided they can move easily. Those that attend multiple classes please wear your costumes that Thursday!

As snow season is quickly approaching please note that classes will be held unless there are extreme weather conditions. Someone from Ballet Now will contact you either by email or phone call to let you know if classes are cancelled – or you can check our Facebook Page! In case of questions you can reach Ms. Cathrine on her cell phone at 720-309-3118. If we cancel a class due to snow we will offer a separate make-up class.
